

The Goosebumps of Delight: trailer transcript

In black and white, the character Gabriel Grubb appears on screen. He says to the camera, “In an old abbey town, a long time ago, there officiated a sexton and gravedigger in the churchyard, a man named Gabriel Grubb. He was a morose and cross-grained gentleman who consorted with nobody but himself.”

Nicholas Collett appears on screen, sat inside a theatre. He speaks to the camera and says, “That was Gabriel Grubb. I'm Nicholas Collett, and this is The Goosebumps of Delight, two of Charles Dickens' ghost stories. See you at Bishop Auckland Town Hall on October 10th.”

ends